NOTES

I. Instructional Materials: Review, Selection Processes and Timelines

a. How to Best Support Learning Using Aligned Resources

Information was provided clarifying the process for a content area to adopt new instructional materials to support the essential learning outcomes identified by the content area. Key elements to the process include:

1. Having Essential Learning Outcomes for courses as a starting point
2. Having assessments aligned to ELOs
3. Having all schools acquire newly adopted materials with no option to continue use of outdated materials

II. Continuous School Improvement Process Update

a. Information regarding current district efforts at revisiting the district's mission and vision.

Site and district representatives are contributing to a thorough process of examination and reflection using data (performance and perception) to assess alignment and direction in the district. The process will expand out and involve all stakeholders over the next year. A district oriented process will be shared at PD Day 3 and school sites will begin site based efforts in the 2019-2020 school year.
