

TEST PREP FOR SAT and ACT

How much should students prepare for the SAT and/or the ACT? Take a common sense approach. Use the free materials available in the College & Career Center to become familiar with what is expected. If more information is desired, local bookstores have books at relatively low cost. If a more structured learning environment is thought necessary, refer to the list of references below.

The following websites have free test prep information:

SAT and ACT WORKSHOPS

Ordinarily, workshops like the following are helpful only when students are able to focus the required time and energy to achieve demonstrated results. This is only a partial listing of potential resources. For more detailed information, call the numbers listed.

The following is a listing of several workshops that are available to interested students. Please note this listing is provided as a resource for students and does not constitute a recommendation by RJUHSD for any of these workshops.
